

JASON J. KRUCKAS

DIRECTOR OF CONSTRUCTION/SENIOR PROJECT MANAGER

ABOUT

As Director of Construction/Senior Project Manager of the Worcester Business Development Corporation (WBDC), Jason brings extensive professional and military experience to the organization's objectives and strategies.

As Director of Construction, Jason is in charge of the oversight of the construction and environmental remediation projects for the WBDC. Jason reviews bid documents, payment requisitions, and performs contract administration. He also follows the leadership of the Director of Property Management and assists in the maintenance of all company owned properties and fee-for-service property management contracts.

As Senior Project Manager, Jason is responsible for the delivery of specific real estate development throughout the development lifecycle, from site identification and acquisition through due diligence to site preparation and transition of the asset. He manages a team of professional consultants and effectively collaborates with them to ensure a positive result.

Jason has been directly involved with the Greendale Revitalization Project to help improve the neighborhood, create jobs, and expand the tax base in the City.

PRIOR EXPERIENCE

Prior to joining the WBDC, Jason worked for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts' Division of Capital Asset Management & Maintenance (DCAMM) for six years, first as Facilities Manager, then as Senior Operations Manager. During his time working for DCAMM, he oversaw the management of numerous facilities across the Central and Western regions and developed their Surplus Property program. Prior to working at DCAMM, Jason was the Facilities Operations Specialist for the Massachusetts Army National Guard facilities. Jason served with the United States Army and the Massachusetts Army National Guard for 18 years.

In his spare time, Jason enjoys camping and golfing.
